The Morning Line
(Santa Barbara): Published by Am Here Books / Immediate Editions (1982)
$650
First edition, trade issue. Quarto. Mimeographed leaves printed rectos only in stapled printed wrappers. Cover design by Tom Clark. Faint edge yellowing on front wrap, overall near fine. Signed by Berrigan on the title page. [BTC#548774]

5 John BERRYMAN, George Marion O’DONNELL, Randall JARRELL, Mary BARNARD, and W.R. MOSES
Five Young American Poets
Norfolk, Connecticut: New Directions (1940)
$450
First edition. Octavo. Spine lettering dull, corners bumped, faint dampstain on one leaf, a well-read but sound good or better copy lacking the dust jacket. The first commercial book appearance of these five poets, preceding each of Berryman’s and Jarrell’s own separate first books by two years. This is poet Donald Justice’s copy, with his ownership Signature (“Don J”) on the front pastedown. [BTC#555584]

Poem
New York: The Phoenix Book Shop 1973
$850

Uncorrected proof. Oblong 12mo. Ten corner-stapled leaves printed rectos only. Fine. Published in an edition of only 126 copies, this unsigned proof format is presumably very uncommon. [BTC#540044]
8 Robert BLY
Autograph Letter Signed to Poet Al Purdy
$350
One page on stationary of the Seventy's Press dated 11 Feb. 1971. Old folds from mailing, else fine. Handwritten letter from Bly to Canadian poet Al Purdy, complimenting Purdy on a review of one of Bly's books, especially a phrase of Purdy's, “an ass-backwards hunchback.” Bly says, “I've seen this hunchback walking up the hill in so many translations, of Rilke, of the Chinese. It really makes a man wild.” Bly goes on to talk of a mutual acquaintance who has cancer (Nowlen?): “I didn't mean that Nowlen was himself afraid of tenderness, but that he was sensitive to that fear in others. That's a gift in a writer, surely, and different from being afraid.” [BTC#539958]

9 (Paul BOWLES)
Revue Mosane
Janvier, 1931
3e Année
(Belgium): Revue Mosane 1931
$500
First edition. Octavo. 29pp. Illustration reproducing artwork by J. Van Cleemput. Text in French. Stapled tan printed wrappers. Covers are toned (printed on acidic paper), rear cover has a ½” chip at one corner, front cover and a few leaves have a small nick at the tip of one corner, front leaf detached but present, a good to very good copy of a very fragile item. Prints the poem “Chanson” by Paul Bowles; the publisher lists him as “Paul-Frédérick Bowles.” Additional contributions by Lucien Jublou, Tristan Remy, et al. Scarce. No copy located by OCLC. See Miller C60 for a 1930 appearance of “Chanson” in a Belgian anthology. [BTC#550592]
(Joe BRAINARD, Ron PADGETT, LeRoi JONES [Amiri Baraka], Ted BERRIGAN, Robert CREELEY, and others)

The White Dove Review
Summer Issue
Volume 2 Number 5
$1000

First edition. Edited by Ron Padgett, Joe Brainard, and Betty Kennedy. Octavo. [24]pp. Illustrated by Joe Brainard and Dan Teis. Stapled wrappers illustrated by Joe Brainard. Slightly bumped at one corner, very near fine. The fifth and final issue of the periodical The White Dove Review which was started by high school student Ron Padgett with the aid of classmates Dick Gallup and Joe Brainard. Inspired by Amiri Baraka's Yugen and Wallace Berman's Semina, Padgett made arrangements with his local printer and the trio then sent earnest pleas to top Beat writers Jack Kerouac and Allen Ginsberg, as well as New York avant-garde poets Amiri Baraka and Clarence Major, and received significant contributions for their efforts. The precocious Brainard and Padgett published five issues of the magazine while still at high school. Brainard and Padgett were students at Tulsa Central High School, attending concurrently with filmmaker and photographer Larry Clark, of Tulsa fame (and incidentally, also with future oil billionaire George Kaiser).

This issue features poems from Ted Berrigan, Richard Gallup, LeRoi Jones [Amiri Baraka], Gilbert Sorrentino, Robert Creeley, Ron Padgett, Jack Anderson, David Omer Bearden, Richard Dokey, Carl Larsen, C. Cleburne Culin, and Martin Edward Cochran, and is illustrated with a cover and three drawings by Brainard and another four by Dan Teis. Very scarce.

Ron Padgett/ POEM FOR P.

I find you most beautiful when you are afraid and the white stars flood the innocence about your eyes, clean, soft is the bulk of your sweater.

I am trembling as I kiss your powdered nose and fading to dust as your eyes close.
11 Charles BUKOWSKI

Burning in Water, Drowning in Flame
Los Angeles: Black Sparrow Press 1974

$4500

First edition, trade issue in wrappers. Octavo. Printed wrappers. Slightly soiled, tiny tears at spine ends, a very good or better copy. The Dedication Copy of this collection of Bukowski’s poems, Inscribed beneath the printed dedication, “for Steve Richmond,” the poet has written: “To the most human and gentle and living person that I know. Charles Bukowski, 6-30-74.” Also signed by Steve Richmond. [BTC#542559]

The Poet – Nos. 1-15 [All Published]
Glasgow: The Poet / William Price Turner (1951-56)
$3500
Periodicals. Fifteen issues. Two issues with cover art by famed British graphic designer Alan Fletcher. Slim 12mos (with the first number a bit smaller). Stapled wrappers. Most staples heavily oxidized with localized staining, lacking six staples, about half the issues with toned pages, one issue with remnants of old tape backing on the spine, very good.

The run includes two themed issues—the “All-Women Issue” and the “American Issue”—and two issues are dedicated to the work of single poets: Gordon Wharton, and the Fugitive Poems of Merrill Moore (“long out of print”). Number 2 is accompanied by an additional poetry supplement, and five issues were published with separate “Review Supplements,” with brief discussion of works by Auden, Graham, Thom Gunn, Denise Levertov, W.S. MacLeish, Pound, Spender, Richard Wilbur, and others. The issues also feature many ads for contemporary poetry journals. Very uncommon, especially complete. OCLC locates one single issue and two serial entries (Purdue, University of Edinburgh).

14  Norman DOUGLAS
[Manuscript Poem]: Hellas so Greek (So Greek!)
$3500
Typed Manuscript Poem. Five quarto sheets containing 106 lines with numerous hand corrections by Douglas. Very good with old folds from mailing and two small holes and accompanying rust marks at the top left corner of each sheet from an old pin (no longer present) used to secure them. Cryptically Inscribed on the first sheet: “For Cugino [male cousin] from Cugino. An ode to your new-birth into the family. D.”
The amusing poem, written in the style of the licentious doggerel so loved by Douglas, was undoubtedly written in his later years in Capri. In part:
“The spittled Schack
Limping evil days
Upon his thighs
And lies
Sweating at the lips
Where tips
Of Capri foreskins frolic
With the juice of Pine and Holly.”
“Schack” (which has been hand-corrected by Douglas from “Shack”) apparently refers to Baron Ekkehard Von Schack. From the Islay Lyons/Kenneth McPherson/Norman Douglas archive. [BTC#539989]

17  T.S. ELIOT
Framed Autograph Letter Signed
Sussex: August 16, 1946
$2500

Two-page Autograph Letter Signed from T.S. Eliot framed with a photograph of the poet, both measuring approximately 4½" x 6½", in a double-sided gilt frame, measuring 15¾" x 12¾". Unexamined out of the frame, appears fine. A letter sent by Eliot to Cecilia Ady, a friend and historian at the University of Oxford, written on August 16, 1946, sometime after his return from America to see both his brother and his close friend Frank Morley. A domestic letter following up on a possibly lost package of soap (given to him for Ady by Morley's wife Christina and sent to an address provided by publisher Enid Faber). Eliot's concern is likely genuine for an item much in demand following years of wartime shortages. A letter that sheds insight into his friend circle and his concerns for them. [BTC#553912]

19 Charles Henri FORD, edited by
Blues: A Magazine of New Rhythms
Number 8
New York: Lew Ney Spring 1930
$2000
Tall octavo. Stapled printed blue thin card wrappers. Modest chipping along the edges of the yapped wrappers, near very good. The eighth of a total run of nine issues edited and co-published by Charles Henri Ford, of a short-lived and rare experimental poetry magazine conceived when Ford was living at his parent's home in Mississippi. Includes work by Parker Tyler, William Carlos Williams, Louis Zukofsky, Paul Bowles, Gertrude Stein, Kay Boyle, Jay Leyda, and others.

Also includes a rare early appearance of a poem by African-American poet Kathleen Tankersley Young (along with an ad for her book, Ten Poems). Young was an African-American poet, active during the Harlem Renaissance. She served as an editor for The Modern Editions Press (which also published Paul Bowles' rare first book, Two Poems), and was co-editor of Blues: A Magazine of New Rhythms. Young died unexpectedly in April 1933. All issues of Blues: A Magazine of New Rhythms are rare. [BTC#553783]
20 Philip FRENEAU
Poems: Written and Published During the American Revolutionary War
In Two Volumes
Philadelphia: From the Press of Lydia R. Bailey 1809
$500
Third edition, first state, with page 269 of Vol. 2 misprinted as “239.” Two volumes. 12mos. Vol. 1 illustrated with an engraved frontispiece plate of a Native American tribal chief (from “The Prophecy of King Tammany”). With a list of “Subscribers’ names” (including Presidents Madison and Jefferson) at the back of Vol. 2. Rebound in full calf with the original spine labels retained, modern endpapers. Vol. 2 is lacking the frontispiece, small number stamp on the bottom margin of the first text page in each volume, else very good with modest toning. A scarce early set by the New Jersey resident and “Poet of the American Revolution.” [BTC#541289]

21 Robert FROST
A Boy’s Will
London: David Nutt 1913
$4000
First edition, signed issue, second issue, binding D. 12mo. 52pp. Cream-colored linen wrappers printed in black. A fine, bright copy. Frederick Baldwin Adams, Jr.’s copy, with his pencil notation about this printing on the front flyleaf and housed in an envelope, in a custom stiff paper and card chemise, with Adams’ Rockwell Kent-designed bookplate inside the front cover of the chemise. This is the Signed issue, copy number 123 of 135 numbered copies signed and numbered by Robert Frost in 1923 on the half-title page. According to Crane A2 note: binding D (with rubberstamp “Printed in Great Britain” on verso of title page, as distributed by Dunster House, Cambridge, Mass, 1923. See Crane, p. 7-9, for the complicated publishing history of this title). Adams was an important collector, and friend of Robert Frost. [BTC#510657]
22 Robert FROST
A Further Range
New York: Henry Holt (1936)
$8500
First trade edition, second impression (without “first printing” statement on copyright page, see Crane A21.1). Fine in slightly spine-toned, very near fine dust jacket. Incribed by Frost to Robert Smith, with 16 lines from his poem “Two Tramps in Mud Time,” utilizing most of the front free endpaper. The recipient, Robert Smith, was a pioneering radio broadcaster for WABI, Maine’s oldest commercial radio station. Frost’s friendship with Smith spanned decades; Frost would stay with Smith when he was in the area and Frost would reciprocate, hosting Smith and his family. Here Frost writes out the last two stanzas of his poem, which differs slightly from the printed version: “play-for-mortal-stakes” is hyphenated and “Future’s” in the last line is capitalized. A Further Range was the third of Frost’s books to receive the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry. [BTC#541832]

23 Robert FROST
Complete Poems of Robert Frost 1949
$1850
Fifth printing. 666pp. Offsetting from a clipping on front fly, else near fine in lightly worn very good or better dust jacket with a few scattered small nicks and tears. Inscribed by Robert Frost on the front fly: “For Charlotte Rosenberg from Robert Frost. New York Nov 7 1955.” [BTC#553993]
24 Robert GIBBINGS
The Perfect Wife: A Fable from France
Transmogrified into Anglo-Irish Idiom & Illustrated by Robert Gibbings
(County Dublin): The Dolmen Press (1955)
$1500
First edition. Large octavo. Printed in red and black. [8]pp. Illustrated by Robert Gibbings. Sewn and laid into a separate printed outer wrapper on buff paper with a small woodcut engraving of a pen and a burnishing tool. Fine. The outer wrapper is printed: The Dolmen Chapbook Part 3.” Gibbings, Irish artist, wood-engraver, writer, and printer founded the Society of Wood Engravers in 1919, and also ran the Cockerell Press from 1924 to 1933. An early Dolmen Press publication; extremely scarce in publisher’s outer protective wrapper. There was also a variant issue stating: “The Dolman Chapbook. An Illustrated Miscellany in parts Printed and published at The Dolman Press.” Published in a total edition of 250 copies of both variants. [BTC#552261]

The first modern language translation of Beowulf

26  N.F.S. GRUNDTVIG
[Beowulf] Bjowulfs Drape
Kjøbenhavn [Copenhagen]: Trykt hos Andreas Seidelin 1820
$3500
First edition in Danish. Translated by N.F.S. Grundtvig. Octavo. lxxiv, 325pp. Contemporary quarter leather gilt, marbled boards, marbled endpapers. Small early ink owner name on front fly leaf and autograph note in pencil on verso of front free endpaper. The spine and boards are rubbed, spine back has a tear from loss of one band, else very good overall with scattered foxing, mostly on the final three leaves. The important first Danish edition of Beowulf, being the first printing of the epic Anglo-Saxon poem in any modern language, preceded only by Thorkelin’s 1815 Latin edition. The Grundtvig translation is both more accurate and more complete, with several noted corrections. A well preserved copy in contemporary or perhaps original boards of a scarce edition. [BTC#541606]

William Eastlake’s Copy

27  Jim HARRISON
Plain Song
New York: W.W. Norton & Company, Inc. (1965)
$450
First edition. Head of spine is partly abraded (lacking about a half-inch piece from the spine), else fine in dust jacket lacking a corresponding half-inch piece from the head of spine, very good. The front flap lower corner is clipped, with the price present on the upper corner. Inscribed on the front free endpaper by Harrison to William Eastlake, a noted novelist of the American Southwest, and a close friend of Harrison’s. A nice association. [BTC#545264]
28 Seamus HEANEY
Electric Light
(London): Faber and Faber (2001)
$600
First edition. Fine in fine dust jacket. Signed by Heaney on the title page. Housed in a custom green cloth-covered clamshell case with the title and Heaney's facsimile signature in gilt. The case is a bit big for the book and is consequently a little loose fitting. [BTC#543842]

$950
Numbers 1-3, all published under this title. Small quartos. 156, 168, 142pp. Illustrated in black and white. Printed wrappers. Light wear, blank lower wraps with a bit of light foxing or soil, Vol. 1 with a lightly toned spine and a couple of faint spots inside the wraps, overall near fine. Two volumes Signed by Seamus Heaney at his contributions: an interview with Micheál MacLiammóir titled “The Importance of Being Micheál: The State of Arts in Ireland” (Number 1), and his verse-play “Munro” (Number 3). Heaney also contributed the poem “Yank” to Number 2. The first three issues of this journal of the arts in Ireland with a religious element, all that were published under this title (it would continue as Aquarius). Published by the Servites of Benburb. Housed together in a green cloth-covered clamshell case with the spine titling and Heaney’s facsimile signature on the cover in gilt. [BTC#541202]

Autograph Letter Signed and Two Autograph Notes Signed to Poet Jeremy Reed

Dublin: 1984-86

$1200

One Autograph Letter Signed and Two Autograph Notes Signed by Heaney: The one-page letter measures 8½” x 11” and the cards measure 5½” x 3½” (a postcard written on one side) and 5¾” x 4” (written on both sides). Letter with folds for mailing and some additional creasing and a tiny stain, near fine. Letter and card with envelopes addressed by Heaney included. Three charming missives from Heaney to poet Jeremy Reed. Heaney appears to have received one of Reed’s books from a member of the Royal Academy of Art in 1984; in the present letter he writes that he “is grateful for it. It is full of rich and careful writing, and gives pleasure and recognition all through, a lovely mix of the unexpected angle of vision and the usual world held up for inspection. Much power to you and to your good work.”

Sincerely,

Seamus Heaney

Uh: Flip-book Dance Alphabet Peepshow Toy Enigma Boring Book
New York: Genesis : Grasp Press 1971
$5500
First edition. Oblong 24mo. Light blue stapled wrappers. Fine. With the original Genesis : Grasp mailing envelope address to poet Clark Coolidge. Also included is a Typed Letter Signed from Richard Meyers, a.k.a. Richard Hell, to Coolidge, dated December 28, 1970 mimicking the cover illustrations. The letter informs Coolidge that the press has accepted four of his poems (we assume for inclusion in Genesis : Grasp 4) and presents this copy of Uh, which is to be the subscriber supplement #5: “I thought you might like it. It’s going to be lying around here in packages, deteriorating, for the two months or so it will take us to raise money and print the issue.” The first book by the influential musician and writer, Richard Hell, published under the pseudonym Ernie Stomach. An artist's flip-book that utilized an alphabet specially created by Hell and published in an edition of 500 copies, with 470 trade copies and with 30 numbered and signed by the author. A mystifyingly uncommon book, which despite the stated limitation, is the only copy we’ve seen. [BTC#554791]

Stuffed Crocodile — Volumes One Through Four

(32 Issues, plus an Index)

London, Ontario, Canada: Killaly Press 1972-1978

$2000

Volumes One through Four. 32 issues (numbered 1:1-8, 2:1-8, 3:1-8, 4:1-8), plus Killaly Chapbook 5:1 (the index). Slim octavos. Approximately 700pp. total. Stapled card covers. Fine with very light wear and the occasional very light oxidation on the staples. A lengthy run of this nicely produced Canadian poetry zine; the contributors are often lesser-known poets but these issues do feature contributions by Tomas Tranströmer, Denise Levertov, Doug Blazek, Andrei Codrescu, Ted Kooser, and Irving Layton, noted Canadian poets Louis Dudek, Janis Rapaport, and Garth Turner, among dozens of others. The title is a nod to Alfred Jarry. Each issue was issued in an edition of 300 copies, most of these are unnumbered. (N.B. The index, Killaly Chapbook 5:1, doubles as Twenty Found Poems Signed on a Floor by Frank B. Arnold.)

With Note from Levy?

38  d.a. LEVY
Farewell the Floating Cunt
(Cleveland, Ohio: Renagade Press 1964)
$1800
First edition. Square octavo. Illustrated. Stapled wrappers. Light toning and wear, near fine. With an unsigned note laid in, which appears to be in levy's hand: "Can you send me a couple of copies of the keys book - in exchange for these." (Keys is quite possibly the poet John Keys, one of whose books levy published earlier in 1964.) One of 105 copies of the first edition, a volume of concrete poetry consisting of poems, letterpress printed by levy, mostly consisting of a single word, most of which your mother wouldn't approve of you using. One of the books that Ed Sanders was charged with selling in the notorious obscenity bust at the Peace Eye Bookstore. Very scarce. OCLC accounts for 21 of the 105 copies, but still lacking from many major collections. [BTC#540761]

39  Amy LOWELL
[Offprint, Cover Title]: Poems
[No place: no publisher 1922?]
$500
First edition thus. Tall octavo. [2 blank], [58], [2 blank] pp., variously paginated. (N.B. pp.[18-19] constitute two bound leaves adhered at the foredge with adhesive.) Sewn wrappers with typed cover label and typed title page. Edges with creasing and tiny tears, cover with a bit of staining, very good. Interior is fine. Amateurishly bound leaves from The Century Magazine, an expanded version of the entry found in BAL, Vol 6, p.20 (see below). This volume contains the works "The House in Main Street" (illustrated from woodcuts by John J. A. Murphy), "In Excelsis," "The Immortals," "The Gravestone," "The Legend of Porcelain," "To Two Unknown Ladies," and "Hedge Island." The entry from BAL states: "Seven leaves extracted from Century Magazine, Feb. 1922, and amateurishly stitched together. There is no evidence that this poem was ever so prepared for publication." We assume the other leaves are from Century Magazine as well. BAL notes one holding of the smaller publication, at Yale; that was the only copy we could locate. A curious document. [BTC#549082]
Robert LOWELL

Notebook 1967-68

$3500

First edition. Very slightly foxed else fine in about fine dust jacket with a slight crease on the front flap. Inscribed to author Mary McCarthy and her husband, Jim West: "For Mary and Jim - Asking pardon for drawing on life. With [sic] from Cal." Cal was Lowell's nickname. The third poem in the book is entitled: "For Mary McCarthy." McCarthy and Lowell were close friends and neighbors in Castine, Maine. A splendid association. [BTC#555251]

Robert LOWELL

Day by Day

$4000

First edition. Fine in a fine dust jacket with faintest toning at the spine. Inscribed by Lowell using his nickname, to novelist Mary McCarthy and her husband, James West: “For Mary and Jim with love (heart-felt) from Cal.” An uncommon book to find inscribed, Lowell died in the year of publication. $600
Single card leaf folded to make four pages. Illustration of one of Loy’s art works. Blurb by Marcel Duchamp. Tear where a little roughly opened, a couple of tape shadows where it was sealed for mailing, a good example. The English poet Loy lived near the Bowery for three years in the 1950s and these art works resulted. The mailer also notes that her book of poetry Lunar Baedeker & Time-Tables had recently been republished. Rare. [BTC#544831]

Shigeyoshi MURAO

Shig’s Review, Nos. 1-3 (first three issues)
(San Francisco: Adler Press / Issue #3 published by City Lights, 1960 and 1969)
$3000

First editions. First three issues; all that were published before 1984. Small quartos. Stapled printed wrappers. Slight age-toning at the extremities of the wrappers, else near fine. Slim poetry journal edited by Japanese-American Shig Murao, longtime factotum at City Lights Books who was arrested for selling a copy of Howl to the police. City Lights owner Lawrence Ferlinghetti contributes poems under a pseudonym in issues #1 and #2. Issue #3, published nine years after the first, is satiric, listing Shig as ALL of the contributors, and consisting entirely of variations on the same photograph by Beth Bagby, of Shig holding a toy wooden bird on a stick. Early sets of this ephemeral little magazine are very uncommon. [BTC#553328]

$1200

First edition. A near fine copy in a good or better dust jacket with tears and wear at the extremities. The Dedication Copy, Inscribed to Reed Whittemore on the half-title: “Reed – here it is. Love, Howard.” The printed dedication also prints the title poem. Several ticks and one penciled note appear in the table of contents, presumably in Whittemore’s hand. Nemerov was an American poet who twice served as U.S. Poet Laureate. Some of the poems in this collection first appeared in the journal Furioso, which under Reed’s editorship became one of the most famous “little magazines” of the time. [BTC#542562]

49 Lydia NOBLE

(Constatine [Konstantin] Balmont)

Poems

With Translations from Constantine Balmont

Boston: The Christopher Publishing House (1930)

$300

First edition. Introduction and In Memoriam by the author’s sister, Beatrice Noble. Illustrated with portraits of Noble and Balmont. Featuring translations of eight poems of Constantine [Konstantin] Balmont by Noble, as well as a 15-page article by Lydia Noble on Balmont that originally appeared in the Boston Transcript. Neat gift inscription on front fly, boards with a bit of slight discoloration at the crown, one page spread with modest offsetting from a newspaper article laid in, near fine in a presentable but about very good dust jacket with edge nicking and a stain, short tears (one creased) at the crown. According to this book, Konstantin Balmont made Lydia Noble his official English translator, but her untimely death cut short the collaboration. (This book was issued posthumously.) Presumably a very early, if not the first, appearance of Balmont’s verse into English. With a small offprint from the Boston Transcript (measuring 3¼” x 8”), dated May 6, 1931 laid in, printing two of her poems: “Lines on the Opening of Tutankhamen’s Tomb,” and “The Lark,” both collected in the Poems and the latter dedicated to Balmont. A very uncommon book of poetry.

Two programs. One a quarto sheet folded twice to form six pages, the other an octavo sheet folded once to form four pages; also laid in is a small errata slip. Fine. Two different programs from the 1961 poetry festival hosted by The Poetry Book Society Limited and held at The Mermaid Theatre in London with a statement by director John Wain. The first program gives an overview of the week's events, the festival patrons, and a list of poets, musicians, actors, and critics who are to perform. The second is a detailed list of each day's event and a breakdown of performances. Those who made appearances included Sylvia Plath, Ted Hughes, Thomas Blackburn, Louis MacNiece, Ralph Richardson, Anthony Thwaite, among others.

The Only Known Copy of One of Runyon’s First Separate Publications

60  Alfred Damon RUNYON
The Army of God Knows Where
Chicago: The American Asphaltum & Rubber Co. [1911]
$16,000
First edition. One sheet folded and ribbon tied to make four pages. Very light pencil name, light edgewear, still a just about fine copy of this attractively printed pamphlet. The only known copy of one of Damon Runyon’s first separate publications, a poem printed by an asphalt company, and dedicated to “Our Civil Engineers.” The poem originally appeared in the October 1908 issue of Bohemian Magazine. A report of this separate publication was printed in Volume XLII, the January-June 1912 Municipal Engineering Index. The poem is also reprinted in Runyon’s first acknowledged full length book, The Tents of Trouble, a volume of poems in flexible boards published in 1911. His best known book, Guys and Dolls, was not published until 1931. Whether this volume precedes the poem’s appearance in The Tents of Trouble (making this his first book), or follows that but precedes his next publication, Rhymes of the Firing Line (thus making this his second book), we are unable to determine. But we can locate no additional copies of this pamphlet, it is clearly rare and possibly unique. [BTC#64626]
61 May SARTON

Inner Landscape

Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company [1939]

$850

First American edition, printed from British sheets. Octavo. 64pp. Cloth. A fine, bright copy in good cream-colored dust jacket that is a bit spine-toned and lacks the rear flap. Very warmly Inscribed by the author: “For Elisabeth, This book which is an end and a beginning with love from May. Jan. 30th, 1939 (The day of Yeats’ death).” Author’s second book of poetry, although the English edition precedes, the American edition seems much less common. It is possible, but by no means assured that the recipient could be Elizabeth (with a “z”) Bowen, with whom Sarton was very intimate around that time. [BTC#556713]

62 W.D. SNODGRASS

Heart’s Needle

In the American Grain
Norfolk, Connecticut: The New Classics / New Directions (1925) [but circa 1950]
$600
First New Directions edition, originally published in 1925 by Boni. Introduction by Horace Gregory. 12mo. 235pp. Boards a little soiled, very good in good or better Alvin Lustig-designed dust jacket with internally repaired splits. Signed by William Carlos Williams. [BTC#553994]
Quarto. One page sent from the Nassau Hotel in Dublin dated 29 October 1907. To “My dear Bullen (or Sidgewick)” requesting: “Please send a copy of ‘ideas of good and evil’ to Mrs. Patrick Campbell… at once as she is leaving for America in a few days. She is going to play ‘Dierdre’ at the Abbey Theatre… and has asked for ‘ideas’ and I would not for the world it missed reaching her in time. Please send a copy of ‘Dierdre’ to B. Iden Payne…” with a few manuscript corrections in the hand of Yeats. Docketed on verso in blue editor’s pencil, two punch holes in margin, old folds from mailing, some small tears, very good.

Yeats’ Diedre, Being Volume Five of Plays for an Irish Theatre was first published in 1907 by A.H. Bullen (in London) and Maunsel & Co. in Dublin. His Ideas of Good and Evil had also been published by Bullen in 1903. Bullen was an English editor, publisher, and founder, with partner Frank Sidgwick of the Shakespeare Head Press, which for its first decades was a publisher of fine editions in the tradition of the Kelmscott Press, and which published collected editions of Shakespeare and Yeats. Mrs. Patrick Campbell was one of the great English thespians who specialized in Shakespeare, Bernard Shaw, and J.M. Barrie. [BTC#556864]
